Unit 1

READING: Mystery/Suspense Book Clubs (Character Study)

Summary and Rationale

In this unit, students will study mystery/suspense to determine how a plot's elements affect a character and his or her decisions. Readers will study the effect that plot suspense has on the relationships between characters and shifts in tone and mood. Readers will also analyze the author's development of suspenseful clues in order to provide readers with opportunities to make predictions. Ultimately, readers will make connections with the character's journey in relation to plot elements and its relevance to the genre of mystery/suspense.

Recommended Pacing

4-5 Weeks

Standards

Reading: Literature

RL.8.1.	Cite the textual evidence and make relevant connections that most strongly supports an analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
RL.8.3	Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.
RL.8.6	Analyze how differences in the points of view of the characters and the audience or reader (e.g., created through the use of dramatic irony) create such effects as suspense or humor.
RL.8.7	Evaluate the choices made by the directors or actors by analyzing the extent to which a filmed or live production of a story or drama stays faithful to or departs from the text or script.
RL.8.9.	Analyze and reflect on (e.g. practical knowledge, historical/cultural context, and background knowledge) how a modern work of fiction draws on themes, patterns of events, or character types from myths, traditional stories, or religious works such as the Bible, including describing how the material is rendered new.
RL.8.10	By the end of the year read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems at grade level text-complexity or above, scaffolding as needed.

Writing

W.8.6.	Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas efficiently as well as to interact and collaborate with others.
W.8.9.	Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research. A. Apply grade 8 Reading standards to literature (e.g., “Analyze how a modern work of fiction draws on themes, patterns of events, or character types from myths, traditional stories, or religious works such as the Bible, including describing how the material is rendered new”).
Speaking and Listening
SL.8.1.	Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 8 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly. A. Come to discussions prepared, having read or researched material under study; explicitly draw on that preparation by referring to evidence on the topic, text, or issue to probe and reflect on ideas under discussion. B. Follow rules for collegial discussions and decision-making, track progress toward specific goals and deadlines, and define individual roles as needed. C. Pose questions that connect the ideas of several speakers and respond to others’ questions and comments with relevant evidence, observations, and ideas. D. Acknowledge new information expressed by others, and, when warranted, qualify or justify their own views in light of the evidence presented.
SL.8.4.	Present claims and findings, emphasizing salient points in a focused, coherent manner with relevant evidence, sound valid reasoning, and well-chosen details; use appropriate eye contact, adequate volume, and clear pronunciation.
Language
L.8.3.	Use knowledge of language and its conventions when writing, speaking, reading, or listening. A. Use verbs in the active and passive voice and in the conditional and subjunctive mood to achieve particular effects (e.g., emphasizing the actor or the action; expressing uncertainty or describing a state contrary to fact).
L.8.5.	Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings. A. Interpret figures of speech (e.g. verbal irony, puns) in context. B. Use the relationship between particular words to better understand each of the words. C. Distinguish among the connotations (associations) of words with similar denotations (definitions) (e.g., bullheaded, willful, firm, persistent, resolute).
Instructional Focus
Enduring Understandings:	Essential Questions:

- Readers track plot suspense and the relationships between characters, recognizing the shifts in tone and mood.
- Reorganizing investigative pieces for greater comprehension, readers reread and refine their notes in order to show their ideas concretely, paying attention to suspenseful clues and making predictions.
- Readers listen to and build upon the thinking of others in order to compare characters' roles within a story.

- How do readers of suspense analyze the effect that plot elements have on characters?
- How do readers of suspense use a variety of notetaking strategies to track character development?
- How do readers of suspense respond to and sustain meaningful conversations about our characters?

Evidence of Learning (Assessments)

- Formative assessments throughout unit assessing mastery as mini lessons progress
- Quizzes/activities that have writers apply skills learned to varied texts
- Writing “check ins” assessed using specific rubric elements
- Post Unit Assessment

Objectives (SLO)

Word Study/Vocabulary Focus

- Develop interest in vocabulary by recognizing and appreciating aspects of words and by “collecting” and discussing interesting words and using them in conversation
- Recognize and use synonyms (words that have almost the same meaning)
  - Ex: (synonyms) destroy/demolish
- Recognize and use antonyms (words that have opposite meaning) and uncover semantic gradients (lists of related words that have similar meanings that increases by degree)
  - Ex: (antonyms) freezing/sweltering
  - Ex: (semantic gradients) freezing, cold, cool, warm, hot, roasting, and sweltering
  - Use this link to support your understanding: <http://www.reallygoodstuff.com/community/semantic-gradients-and-the-common-core-standards/>

The grade level expectations above should be integrated into your planning. You may want to teach word study/vocabulary through mini-lessons to the whole class, small groups, and/or individuals during reading workshop time or provide exposure through shared reading or interactive read aloud experiences outside of reading workshop. Additionally, students should have the opportunity to practice using the words in writing during writing workshop time. In addition to the grade level expectations above, students may need additional word study support based upon their individual progress. Please utilize student work to determine what a student knows and is able to do and what a student might need next.

Please keep in mind, if students are recognizing words in texts and uncovering the impact/meaning, this is reading workshop work. If they are utilizing words or applying them to their writing, this is writing workshop work. Ensure to understand the distinct difference when planning and not confuse where specific elements belong.

Students will know: (Goals)

Students will be able to: (Teaching Points)

As readers of suspense we analyze the effect that plot elements have on characters.

IMPORTANT TIPS FOR IMMERSION:

During the first few days of this unit, you should plan time for shared reading lessons and/or interactive read aloud so that you can set the tone for the suspense unit and begin focusing the work around common texts. This would be a great time to ensure partnerships are established. It is also important that students have independent reading texts to support the work of the unit so that when they go off to practice during the “you do,” they each have individual texts to which they can apply the work.

Some Lessons to Support Immersion:

- Read Aloud: Characters Are Often Shaped by the Mood or Atmosphere of the Setting
  - So much of suspense is about mood/atmosphere. This is a great way to use interactive read aloud to begin to have students consider the impact that setting has on characters.
- Read Aloud: Characters Acting as a Group Can Wield Enormous Influence, for Good or for Evil
  - This will help students to begin to consider how characters are impacted by others.

- Readers consider the impact that suspense has on the reader.
- Readers identify specific literary techniques that the author utilizes to develop suspense.
  - vivid description/imagery
  - foreshadowing
  - pacing
  - flashback
  - mood /tone
  - irony
  - point of view
- Readers make inferences about characters in a suspense by noticing what motivates them to act or think a certain way.
- Readers track suspenseful moments and analyze the impact the moments have on the characters.
- Readers consider how specific word choice, especially words with a negative connotation, and consider the impact the words have on the reader.
- Readers of suspense recognize the shifts in tone and mood and how it affects the character(s).
- Readers track relationships between the hero (protagonist) and villain (antagonist) based on their words and actions.
- Readers notice rapid and subtle time shifts through verb tense changes. (Mini Lesson)

As readers of suspense we use a variety of notetaking strategies to track character development.

Suggestions for Differentiation

Conferring/Small Group Instruction

(This list can be used to provide accommodations, modifications, and/or extensions for individual students.)

- Noticing time changes
- Purposeful Thinking
- Talking & Writing About Characters
- Writing About Reading
- Supporting Reading Notebook Work

- Readers take creative risks in note-taking by rereading and refining their notes.
- Readers creatively show their ideas and use concrete ways to do so.
- Readers pay attention to suspenseful clues and make predictions, revising their thinking as necessary.

As readers of suspense we respond to and sustain meaningful conversations about our characters.

- Readers listen to the thinking of others so they can understand and learn from others’ ideas.
- Readers build on one another’s ideas so they can make the discussion more interesting
- Readers of suspense compare characters by thinking about the roles they play in the story, what motivates them, what choices they make, and how they respond to an event/dilemma.

Unit 2

WRITING: Suspense Short Stories

Summary and Rationale

In this unit, students will be exposed to various mentor texts as they examine the characteristics of the genre of suspense. They will evaluate how writers structure suspense texts to write gripping stories that keep their readers on the edge of their seats. Throughout the unit, students will learn from mentor writers and experiment with varied techniques as they create their own suspense texts. Ultimately, writers will create a suspenseful short story or isolated scene based on either a fictional or nonfictional experience.

W.8.4.	Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, voice and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience. (Grade-specific expectations for writing types are defined in standards 1–3 above.)
W.8.5.	With some guidance and support from peers and adults, develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach, focusing on how well purpose and audience have been addressed.
W.8.6.	Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas efficiently as well as to interact and collaborate with others.
W.8.10.	Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, metacognition/self correction, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences.
Speaking and Listening
SL.8.1.	Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 8 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly. B. Follow rules for collegial discussions and decision-making, track progress toward specific goals and deadlines, and define individual roles as needed.
Language
	L.8.1. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking. A. Form and use verbs in the active and passive voice. B. Form and use verbs in the indicative, imperative, interrogative, conditional, and subjunctive mood. C. Recognize and correct inappropriate shifts in verb voice and mood.
L.8.2	Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing. A. Use punctuation (comma, ellipsis, dash) to indicate a pause or break. B. Use an ellipsis to indicate an omission. C. C. Spell correctly.
L.8.3.	Use knowledge of language and its conventions when writing, speaking, reading, or listening. A. Use verbs in the active and passive voice and in the conditional and subjunctive mood to achieve particular effects (e.g., emphasizing the actor or the action; expressing uncertainty or describing a state contrary to fact).
Instructional Focus
Enduring Understandings:	Essential Questions:

- Writers collect ideas, draw on what they already know, come up with new ideas, and acknowledge the effects of different points of view that best fit their purpose.
- Writers create suspenseful stories by creating a lead, using figurative language, crafting setting, creating a villain and hero, and unpredictable high-stakes dilemmas and complicating matters.
- Writers of suspense vary their sentence structure, composing strong endings, and utilizing rubrics to assess work.

- What do writers do to generate ideas for and plan short stories that create suspense?
- What do writers do to mirror author’s craft in our short stories to create tension/suspense?
- What do writers do to edit and publish suspenseful scenes that keep readers on the edge of their seats?

Objectives (SLO)

Grammar Focus

- Active/passive voice
- Verb moods (indicative, imperative, interrogative, conditional, and subjunctive)
- Punctuation for pauses and breaks in writing

The grade level language standards above should be integrated into your planning. You may want to teach grammar mini-lessons to the whole class, small groups, and/or individuals. In addition to the grade level expectations above, students may need additional grammar instruction based upon their individual progress. Please utilize student work to determine what a student knows and is able to do and what a student might need next.

IMPORTANT TIPS FOR SHARED WRITING:

During the first few days of this unit, you should plan time for shared writing lessons so that students can all have a common experience and begin to experiment with generating ideas and drafting suspense stories. You may want to:

- Generate story ideas in a few different ways
- Select one agreed upon character(s)/setting/conflict
- Map out the story on a plot chart
- Try out a lead or two
- Try out a small moment from the story

During the first few days, you should also reflect back on the characteristics of suspense stories through shared reading, now looking through the eyes of a writer.

Students will know: (Goals)

Students will be able to: (Teaching Points)

As writers we generate ideas for and plan short stories that create suspense. (Generating Ideas/Plan)

- Writers collect multiple story ideas, blurbs, and scenes in their notebooks, drawing on what they know about strong narrative writing.
- Writers utilize mentor authors to understand the genre of suspense and generate ideas for their own short stories.
- Writers come up with ideas for the conflicts their characters might experience.
- Writers can acknowledge the effects of different points of view, choosing the one that best fits their purpose.

As writers we mirror author’s craft in our short stories to create tension/suspense. (Draft/Revise)

- Writers study mentor author’s leads and try out various suspenseful leads to inform the readers as to what’s at stake in our stories.
- Writers study mentor texts for craft moves and utilize figurative language to enliven our writing and create a suspenseful mood for the reader.
- Writers craft setting, convey the passage of time, and write dialogue to convey meaning, mood, and tension
- Writers add style and details by using powerful vocabulary to create images.
- Writers of suspense create a really good villain that is visible and a hero that the readers can believe in and care about.
- Writers of suspense apply pressure by creating unpredictable high-stakes dilemmas and complicating matters.

As writers we edit and publish suspenseful scenes that keep readers on the edge of their seats. (Edit)

- Writers of suspense use a variety of sentence structure to create tension.
- Writers compose a strong ending for our narrative.
- Writers utilize rubrics to assess our work before publishing.

Unit 3

READING: Nonfiction Reading (A Study in Text Structure/Features/Point of View)

Summary and Rationale

In this unit, students will identify and analyze nonfiction author's point of view and message. Readers will understand how nonfiction text structures and features enhance their understanding of nonfiction text and author's purpose, eventually utilizing them for greater comprehension and analysis, both within and across texts. Ultimately, readers will notice comparisons and contradictions of themes across multiple nonfiction texts.

Recommended Pacing

3-4 Weeks

Standards

Reading: Informational Text

RI.8.1	Cite the textual evidence and make relevant connections that most strongly supports an analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
RI.8.2	Determine a central idea of a text and analyze its development over the course of the text, including its relationship to supporting ideas; provide an objective summary of the text.
RI.8.4	Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative, connotative, and technical meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone, including analogies or allusions to other texts.
RI.8.5	Analyze the structure an author uses to organize a specific paragraph in a text, including the role of particular sentences, to develop and to refine a key concept.
RI.8.7	Evaluate the advantages and disadvantages of using different mediums (e.g., print or digital text, video, multimedia) to present a particular topic or idea.
RI.8.10.	By the end of the year read and comprehend literary nonfiction at grade level text-complexity or above, with scaffolding as needed.

Writing

W.8.6.	Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas efficiently as well as to interact and collaborate with others.
W.8.8.	Gather relevant information from multiple print and digital sources, using search terms effectively; assess the credibility and accuracy of each source; and quote or paraphrase the data and conclusions of others while avoiding plagiarism and following a standard format for citation.

W.8.9.	Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research. B. Apply grade 8 Reading standards to literary nonfiction (e.g., “Delineate and evaluate the argument and specific claims in a text, assessing whether the reasoning is sound and the evidence is relevant and sufficient; recognize when irrelevant evidence is introduced”).
Speaking and Listening
SL.8.1.	Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 8 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly. A. Come to discussions prepared, having read or researched material under study; explicitly draw on that preparation by referring to evidence on the topic, text, or issue to probe and reflect on ideas under discussion. B. Follow rules for collegial discussions and decision-making, track progress toward specific goals and deadlines, and define individual roles as needed. C. Pose questions that connect the ideas of several speakers and respond to others’ questions and comments with relevant evidence, observations, and ideas. D. Acknowledge new information expressed by others, and, when warranted, qualify or justify their own views in light of the evidence presented.
SL.8.2.	Analyze the purpose of information presented in diverse media and formats (e.g., visually, quantitatively, orally) and evaluate the motives (e.g., social, commercial, political) behind its presentation.
SL.8.4.	Present claims and findings, emphasizing salient points in a focused, coherent manner with relevant evidence, sound valid reasoning, and well-chosen details; use appropriate eye contact, adequate volume, and clear pronunciation.
Language
L.8.4	Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words or phrases based on grade 8 reading and content, choosing flexibly from a range of strategies. A. Use context (e.g., the overall meaning of a sentence or paragraph; a word’s position or function in a sentence) as a clue to the meaning of a word or phrase. C. Consult reference materials (e.g., dictionaries, glossaries, thesauruses), both print and digital, to find the pronunciation of a word or determine or clarify its precise meaning or its part of speech. D. Verify the preliminary determination of the meaning of a word or phrase (e.g., by checking the inferred meaning in context or in a dictionary).
L.8.6.	Acquire and use accurately grade-appropriate general academic and domain-specific words and phrases; gather vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.
Interdisciplinary Connections

SS 6.2	All students will acquire the knowledge and skills to think analytically and systematically about how past interactions of people, cultures, and the environment affect issues across time and cultures. Such knowledge and skills enable students to make informed decisions as socially and ethically responsible world citizens in the 21st century.
SS 6.3	All students will acquire the skills needed to be active, informed citizens who value diversity and promote cultural understanding by working collaboratively to address the challenges that are inherent in living in an interconnected world.

Unit 4

WRITING: Writing to Inform Others (Research)

Summary and Rationale

In this unit, students will learn how to write effectively on varied topics that they have generated and researched. Writers will study the purposes of different research reports and styles of nonfiction writing in order to better engage their own readers. Writers will also become engulfed in the research and writing process by developing research questions, a plan about their subject or topic of interest, determine credibility and authenticity of information, quote and paraphrase data, and develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, and editing. Ultimately, students will be able to publish a clear and cohesive research report in which development and organization are appropriate to purpose and audience.

Recommended Pacing

4 Weeks

Standards

Reading: Informational Text

RI.8.1	Cite the textual evidence and make relevant connections that most strongly supports an analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
RI.8.2	Determine a central idea of a text and analyze its development over the course of the text, including its relationship to supporting ideas; provide an objective summary of the text.
RI.8.5	Analyze the structure an author uses to organize a specific paragraph in a text, including the role of particular sentences, to develop and to refine a key concept.
RI.8.6	Determine an author's point of view or purpose in a text and analyze how the author acknowledges and responds to conflicting evidence or viewpoints.

Writing

W.8.2.	Write informative/explanatory texts to examine a topic and convey ideas, concepts, and information through the selection, organization, and analysis of relevant content. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>A. Introduce a topic and organize ideas, concepts, and information, using text structures (e.g., definition, classification, comparison/contrast, cause/effect, etc.) and text features (e.g., headings, graphics, and multimedia).</li><li>B. Develop the topic with relevant, well-chosen facts, definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples.</li><li>C. Use appropriate and varied transitions to create cohesion and clarify the relationships among ideas</li></ul>

	and concepts. D. Use precise language and domain-specific vocabulary to inform about or explain the topic. E. Establish and maintain a formal style/academic style, approach, and form. F. Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the information or explanation presented.
W.8.4.	Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, voice and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience. (Grade-specific expectations for writing types are defined in standards 1–3 above.)
W.8.5.	With some guidance and support from peers and adults, develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach, focusing on how well purpose and audience have been addressed.
W.8.6.	Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas efficiently as well as to interact and collaborate with others.
W.8.10.	Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, metacognition/self correction, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences.
Speaking and Listening
SL.8.1.	Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 8 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly. B. Follow rules for collegial discussions and decision-making, track progress toward specific goals and deadlines, and define individual roles as needed.
Language
L.8.2	Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing. A. Use punctuation (comma, ellipsis, dash) to indicate a pause or break. B. Use an ellipsis to indicate an omission. C. Spell correctly.
L.8.6.	Acquire and use accurately grade-appropriate general academic and domain-specific words and phrases; gather vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.
Interdisciplinary Connections
SS 6.2	All students will acquire the knowledge and skills to think analytically and systematically about how past interactions of people, cultures, and the environment affect issues across time and cultures. Such knowledge and skills enable students to make informed decisions as socially and ethically responsible world citizens in the 21st century.

SS 6.3

All students will acquire the skills needed to be active, informed citizens who value diversity and promote cultural understanding by working collaboratively to address the challenges that are inherent in living in an interconnected world.

Instructional Focus

Enduring Understandings:

- Writers build their knowledge of the research genre and clearly understand writing expectations and goals by studying mentor texts, understanding the author’s purpose, and forming compelling questions about a topic or idea.
- Writers discover and brainstorm their own ideas for writing by listing possible research topics about contemporary or environmental issues, self-questioning about how history has impacted the progress of civilizations past and present, and learning about inspiring, motivational people who have left strong legacies through their actions, tenacity, or accomplishments.
- Writers consider purpose, audience, and connection to their ideas before they make their final idea selections by rereading their notes, lists, and entries and considering personal interest and resource availability.
- Writers research ideas, explore different aspects of a topic, recall relevant information from experiences, or gather relevant information from different sources by following important steps, selecting reliable sources and relevant facts, and utilizing an outline.
- Writers take all that they know about their idea or topic and put it all together in a clear structure so it is easy for readers to understand by creating effective introductions, body paragraphs, and conclusions that support purpose and information presented.
- Writers we reread, reflect, and re-see their writing for the purpose of ensuring their piece engages the readers and matches their overall purpose or intention by using cohesive transitions, appropriate structure, and technical, precise language.
- Writers make the text clear and readable

Essential Questions:

- How do writers build their knowledge of the research genre and clearly understand writing expectations and goals?
- How do writers discover and brainstorm their own ideas for writing?
- How do writers consider purpose, audience, and connection to their ideas before they make their final idea selections?
- How do writers research ideas, explore different aspects of a topic, recall relevant information from experiences, or gather relevant information from different sources?
- How do writers take all that they know about their idea or topic and put it all together in a clear structure so it is easy for readers to understand?
- How do writers reread, reflect, and re-see their writing for the purpose of ensuring their piece engages the readers and matches their overall purpose or intention?
- How do writers make the text clear and readable while focusing on the conventions of writing?

while focusing on the conventions of writing by following the standard format for citations, editing their reports to ensure proper tense use, and recognize the importance of a Works Cited page and a Bibliography.

Objectives (SLO)

Grammar Focus

- Active/passive voice
- Verb moods (indicative, imperative, interrogative, conditional, and subjunctive)
- Punctuation for pauses and breaks in writing
- Omitting words using an ellipsis

The grade level language standards above should be integrated into your planning. You may want to teach grammar mini-lessons to the whole class, small groups, and/or individuals. In addition to the grade level expectations above, students may need additional grammar instruction based upon their individual progress. Please utilize student work to determine what a student knows and is able to do and what a student might need next.

Unit 5

READING: Social Issues Book Club (Reading for Empathy and Advocacy)

Summary and Rationale

In this unit, students will read a common book with their book club members as they study social issues within fictional texts. Readers will analyze how power, perspective, and conflict affect characters and they will notice when issues seem related to groups that a character is part of, because of that character's gender, class, race, or age, among other qualities. Readers will also consider how group issues are often related to power issues and will practice analyzing how group power dynamics are playing out in a story. Ultimately, readers will become better close readers: better able to understand how a part of a story, like a particular relationship, or a conflict between groups, is important to something larger, like a theme, and will become better at discussing their reading in groups.

Recommended Pacing

4-5 Weeks

Standards

Reading: Reading Literature

RL.8.1	Cite the textual evidence and make relevant connections that most strongly supports an analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
RL.8.2	Determine a theme or central idea of a text and analyze its development over the course of the text, including its relationship to the characters, setting, and plot; provide an objective summary of the text.
RL.8.3	Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.
RL.8.4	Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone, including analogies or allusions to other texts.
RL.8.5	Compare and contrast the structure of two or more texts and analyze how the differing structure of each text contributes to its meaning and style.
RL.8.10	By the end of the year read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems at grade level text-complexity or above, scaffolding as needed.

Writing

W.8.6.	Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas efficiently as well as to interact and collaborate with others.
--------	--

W.8.9.	Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research. A. Apply grade 8 Reading standards to literature (e.g., “Analyze how a modern work of fiction draws on themes, patterns of events, or character types from myths, traditional stories, or religious works such as the Bible, including describing how the material is rendered new”).
Speaking and Listening
SL.8.1.	Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 8 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly. A. Come to discussions prepared, having read or researched material under study; explicitly draw on that preparation by referring to evidence on the topic, text, or issue to probe and reflect on ideas under discussion. B. Follow rules for collegial discussions and decision-making, track progress toward specific goals and deadlines, and define individual roles as needed. C. Pose questions that connect the ideas of several speakers and respond to others’ questions and comments with relevant evidence, observations, and ideas. D. Acknowledge new information expressed by others, and, when warranted, qualify or justify their own views in light of the evidence presented.
SL.8.4.	Present claims and findings, emphasizing salient points in a focused, coherent manner with relevant evidence, sound valid reasoning, and well-chosen details; use appropriate eye contact, adequate volume, and clear pronunciation.
L.8.1	Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking. A. Explain the function of verbals (gerunds, participles, infinitives) in general and their function in particular sentences.
L.8.4	Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words or phrases based on grade 8 reading and content, choosing flexibly from a range of strategies. A. Use context (e.g., the overall meaning of a sentence or paragraph; a word’s position or function in a sentence) as a clue to the meaning of a word or phrase. C. Consult reference materials (e.g., dictionaries, glossaries, thesauruses), both print and digital, to find the pronunciation of a word or determine or clarify its precise meaning or its part of speech. D. Verify the preliminary determination of the meaning of a word or phrase (e.g., by checking the inferred meaning in context or in a dictionary).
L.8.5	Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings. A. Interpret figures of speech (e.g. verbal irony, puns) in context. B. Use the relationship between particular words to better understand each of the words. C. Distinguish among the connotations (associations) of words with similar denotations (definitions) (e.g., bullheaded, willful, firm, persistent, resolute).

L.8.6	Acquire and use accurately grade-appropriate general academic and domain-specific words and phrases; gather vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

Objectives (SLO)

Word Study/Vocabulary Focus

- Understand and discuss the concept of roots and recognize their use in determining the meaning of some English words
  - aqua (water) aquarium, aquatic
  - centr (center) egocentric, self centered
  - clus (close) conclusion, exclusion, seclusion
  - dur (to last, lasting, harden) duration, durable, enduring
  - fract/frag (break) fracture, fragile, fragment
  - gress (to step/to go) progression, aggression
  - junct (join) junction, conjunction
    - To support your word study in roots, you may want to create a vocabulary tree, placing the root word in the trunk, and allowing the students to build other words on the branches. See the following resources to support your planning:
      - <http://membean.com/wrotds/centr-center>

The grade level expectations above should be integrated into your planning. You may want to teach word study/vocabulary through mini-lessons to the whole class, small groups, and/or individuals during reading workshop time or provide exposure through shared reading or interactive read aloud experiences outside of reading workshop. Additionally, students should have the opportunity to practice using the words in writing during writing workshop time. In addition to the grade level expectations above, students may need additional word study support based upon their individual progress. Please utilize student work to determine what a student knows and is able to do and what a student might need next.

Please keep in mind, if students are recognizing words in texts and uncovering the impact/meaning, this is reading workshop work. If they are utilizing words or applying them to their writing, this is writing workshop work. Ensure to understand the distinct difference when planning and not confuse where specific elements belong.

Students will know: (Goals)

Students will be able to: (Teaching Points)

There are many possible ways teachers prepare to conduct a read-aloud. Some teachers mark up the text using sticky notes with brief reminders on when they will demonstrate or guide students to interact. Others prefer a more fleshed out script. You will find examples of these different ways of preparing read-alouds in the Middle School Reading Units of Study online resources.

Unit 6

WRITING: Literary Essay (Theme Across Texts )

Summary and Rationale

In this unit, students will analyze two works of fiction in order to determine and prove a common theme between the two. Students will generate a claim that identifies that common theme and will then best support that claim using direct, specific, and relevant evidence from both pieces of literature. Students will also provide appropriate context to address and anticipate the audience’s knowledge level and needs and will utilize self and peer editing techniques in order to produce appropriate writing. Ultimately, students will effectively conclude the analysis by reiterating the lesson to be learned from both literary works in a larger context.

Recommended Pacing

4 Weeks

Standards

Reading: Literature

RL.8.1.	Cite the textual evidence and make relevant connections that most strongly supports an analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
RL.8.2.	Determine a theme or central idea of a text and analyze its development over the course of the text, including its relationship to the characters, setting, and plot; provide an objective summary of the text.
RL.8.3	Analyze how particular lines of dialogue or incidents in a story or drama propel the action, reveal aspects of a character, or provoke a decision.
RL.8.5	Compare and contrast the structure of two or more texts and analyze how the differing structure of each text contributes to its meaning and style.

Writing

W.8.2.	Write informative/explanatory texts to examine a topic and convey ideas, concepts, and information through the selection, organization, and analysis of relevant content.

	A. Introduce a topic and organize ideas, concepts, and information, using text structures (e.g., definition, classification, comparison/contrast, cause/effect, etc.) and text features (e.g., headings, graphics, and multimedia). B. Develop the topic with relevant, well-chosen facts, definitions, concrete details, quotations, or other information and examples. C. Use appropriate and varied transitions to create cohesion and clarify the relationships among ideas and concepts. D. Use precise language and domain-specific vocabulary to inform about or explain the topic. E. Establish and maintain a formal style/academic style, approach, and form. F. Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from and supports the information or explanation presented.
W.8.4.	Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, voice and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience. (Grade-specific expectations for writing types are defined in standards 1–3 above.)
W.8.5.	With some guidance and support from peers and adults, develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach, focusing on how well purpose and audience have been addressed.
W.8.6.	Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas efficiently as well as to interact and collaborate with others.
W.8.8.	Gather relevant information from multiple print and digital sources, using search terms effectively; assess the credibility and accuracy of each source; and quote or paraphrase the data and conclusions of others while avoiding plagiarism and following a standard format for citation.
W.8.9.	Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research. A. Apply grade 8 Reading standards to literature (e.g., “Analyze how a modern work of fiction draws on themes, patterns of events, or character types from myths, traditional stories, or religious works such as the Bible, including describing how the material is rendered new”).
W.8.10.	Write routinely over extended time frames (time for research, reflection, metacognition/self correction, and revision) and shorter time frames (a single sitting or a day or two) for a range of discipline-specific tasks, purposes, and audiences.
Speaking and Listening
SL.8.1.	Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 8 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly. B. Follow rules for collegial discussions and decision-making, track progress toward specific goals and deadlines, and define individual roles as needed.
SL.8.4.	Present claims and findings, emphasizing salient points in a focused, coherent manner with relevant evidence, sound valid reasoning, and well-chosen details; use appropriate eye contact, adequate volume, and clear pronunciation.

Language

L.8.1 Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English grammar and usage when writing or speaking.

- A. Explain the function of verbals (gerunds, participles, infinitives) in general and their function in particular sentences.
- C. Form and use verbs in the indicative, imperative, interrogative, conditional, and subjunctive mood.

L.8.2 Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English capitalization, punctuation, and spelling when writing.

- A. Use punctuation (comma, ellipsis, dash) to indicate a pause or break.
- B. Use an ellipsis to indicate an omission.
- C. Spell correctly.

L.8.6 Acquire and use accurately grade-appropriate general academic and domain-specific words and phrases; gather vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

Interdisciplinary Connections

SS 6.3 All students will acquire the skills needed to be active, informed citizens who value diversity and promote cultural understanding by working collaboratively to address the challenges that are inherent in living in an interconnected world.

Unit 7

READING: Argumentative Text Study

Summary and Rationale

In this unit, students will study the structure and style of an argumentative essay/speech and how authors support their purpose for writing. Readers will analyze claims, reasons, and evidence to determine how authors of argument support their writing purposes. Readers also compare the perspectives of authors of argument in order to develop their own perspectives on argument topics. Ultimately, students will identify and comprehend the strategies used by authors to prove and support their arguments.

Recommended Pacing

4 Weeks

Standards

Reading: Informational Text

RI.8.1	Cite the textual evidence and make relevant connections that most strongly supports an analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
RI.8.2	Determine a central idea of a text and analyze its development over the course of the text, including its relationship to supporting ideas; provide an objective summary of the text.
RI.8.3	Analyze how a text makes connections among and distinctions between individuals, ideas, or events (e.g., through comparisons, analogies, or categories).
RI.8.5	Analyze the structure an author uses to organize a specific paragraph in a text, including the role of particular sentences, to develop and to refine a key concept.
RI.8.6	Determine an author's point of view or purpose in a text and analyze how the author acknowledges and responds to conflicting evidence or viewpoints.
RI.8.8	Delineate and evaluate the argument and specific claims in a text, assessing whether the reasoning is sound and the evidence is relevant and sufficient; recognize when irrelevant evidence is introduced.
RI.8.9	Analyze and reflect on (e.g. practical knowledge, historical/cultural context, and background knowledge) two or more texts that provide conflicting information on the same topic and identify where the texts disagree on matters of fact or interpretation.

RI.8.10	By the end of the year read and comprehend literary nonfiction at grade level text-complexity or above, with scaffolding as needed.
Writing
W.8.6.	Use technology, including the Internet, to produce and publish writing and present the relationships between information and ideas efficiently as well as to interact and collaborate with others.
W.8.9.	Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research. B. Apply grade 8 Reading standards to literary nonfiction (e.g., “Delineate and evaluate the argument and specific claims in a text, assessing whether the reasoning is sound and the evidence is relevant and sufficient; recognize when irrelevant evidence is introduced”).
Speaking and Listening
SL.8.1.	Engage effectively in a range of collaborative discussions (one-on-one, in groups, and teacher-led) with diverse partners on grade 8 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly. A. Come to discussions prepared, having read or researched material under study; explicitly draw on that preparation by referring to evidence on the topic, text, or issue to probe and reflect on ideas under discussion. B. Follow rules for collegial discussions and decision-making, track progress toward specific goals and deadlines, and define individual roles as needed. C. Pose questions that connect the ideas of several speakers and respond to others’ questions and comments with relevant evidence, observations, and ideas. D. Acknowledge new information expressed by others, and, when warranted, qualify or justify their own views in light of the evidence presented.
SL.8.2.	Analyze the purpose of information presented in diverse media and formats (e.g., visually, quantitatively, orally) and evaluate the motives (e.g., social, commercial, political) behind its presentation.
SL.8.3.	Delineate a speaker’s argument and specific claims, evaluating the soundness of the reasoning and relevance and sufficiency of the evidence and identifying when irrelevant evidence is introduced. Presentation of Knowledge and Ideas
SL.8.4.	Present claims and findings, emphasizing salient points in a focused, coherent manner with relevant evidence, sound valid reasoning, and well-chosen details; use appropriate eye contact, adequate volume, and clear pronunciation.
Language
L.8.4	Determine or clarify the meaning of unknown and multiple-meaning words or phrases based on grade 8 reading and content , choosing flexibly from a range of strategies. A. Use context (e.g., the overall meaning of a sentence or paragraph; a word’s position or function in a sentence) as a clue to the meaning of a word or phrase. B. Use common, grade-appropriate Greek or Latin affixes and roots as clues to the meaning of a word (e.g., precede , recede , secede ).

	C. Consult reference materials (e.g., dictionaries, glossaries, thesauruses), both print and digital, to find the pronunciation of a word or determine or clarify its precise meaning or its part of speech. D. Verify the preliminary determination of the meaning of a word or phrase (e.g., by checking the inferred meaning in context or in a dictionary).
L.8.5	Demonstrate understanding of figurative language, word relationships, and nuances in word meanings. A. Interpret figures of speech (e.g. verbal irony, puns) in context. B. Use the relationship between particular words to better understand each of the words. C. Distinguish among the connotations (associations) of words with similar denotations (definitions) (e.g., bullheaded, willful, firm, persistent, resolute).
L.8.6	Acquire and use accurately grade-appropriate general academic and domain-specific words and phrases; gather vocabulary knowledge when considering a word or phrase important to comprehension or expression.

■ To support your word study in roots, you may want to create a vocabulary tree, placing the root word in the trunk, and allowing the students to build other words on the branches. See the following resources to support your planning:

- <http://membean.com/wrotds/scrib-write>

The grade level expectations above should be integrated into your planning. You may want to teach word study/vocabulary through mini-lessons to the whole class, small groups, and/or individuals during reading workshop time or provide exposure through shared reading or interactive read aloud experiences outside of reading workshop. Additionally, students should have the opportunity to practice using the words in writing during writing workshop time. In addition to the grade level expectations above, students may need additional word study support based upon their individual progress. Please utilize student work to determine what a student knows and is able to do and what a student might need next.

Please keep in mind, if students are recognizing words in texts and uncovering the impact/meaning, this is reading workshop work. If they are utilizing words or applying them to their writing, this is writing workshop work. Ensure to understand the distinct difference when planning and not confuse where specific elements belong.

Unit 8

WRITING: Argument Papers/Speeches (Book 3)

Summary and Rationale

In this unit, students will conduct research on a complex topic of their choice in order to form opinions and positions. Writers will gather appropriate evidence and tailor that evidence in a compelling way in order to convince their readers of their chosen position, while also refuting opposing opinions and positions. Ultimately, students will compose and present an argumentative speech that requires them to angle evidence in favor of their opinion, using specific word choices and multimedia mediums, while keeping their audience in mind.

Objectives (SLO)

Grammar Focus

- Active/passive voice

- Verb moods (indicative, imperative, interrogative, conditional, and subjunctive)
- Punctuation for pauses and breaks in writing
- Omitting words using an ellipsis

The grade level language standards above should be integrated into your planning. You may want to teach grammar mini-lessons to the whole class, small groups, and/or individuals. In addition to the grade level expectations above, students may need additional grammar instruction based upon their individual progress. Please utilize student work to determine what a student knows and is able to do and what a student might need next.

Students will know: (Goals)

Students will be able to: (Teaching Points)

- As writers we develop complex arguments.

Students will be able to:

- Writers debate different positions on a complicated issues to develop an argument that allows for complexity.
- Writers grapple with intense issues and don't just dive into argument; instead they read, write, and discuss to begin understanding a complex, difficult issue.

- As writers we acknowledge and refute alternative opinions.

- Writers plan more than what is written about; they also set writing goals to plan the work that is ahead.
- Writers angle their evidence by explaining it fully showing how the evidence illustrates or supports specific points.
- Writers turn to familiar strategies for writing powerful conclusions, such as restating a claim, offering insights, and leaving readers with memorable ideas or a call to action.

- As writers we present and tailor our findings in ways that compel our audience.

- Writers make their case and advance their ideas not just with evidence but with specifically chosen words.
- Writers integrate multimedia and other visual displays to enhance their argument.
